STOCKTON HOST TO LEGION

Annual Convention Opens On Saturday, Concludes With Election Wednesday

STOCKTON—In automobiles, house trailers and by train, Legionnaires and their wives are trekking to Stockton for the opening of the California department of the American Legion and its affiliated organizations Saturday. It is estimated between 10,000 and 15,000 will attend the convention.

Delegates to the conventions of the 40 and 8 and its auxiliary, the 8 and 40, will swing into action Saturday, with 50 candidates to be given the Grande Wreck into the men's organization, and a "stagette" party for the women.

Approximately 35,000 persons will witness the opening ceremony of the Legion convention Sunday night, to be present on a 320-foot stage on barges in American Legion Park.

Down gaily-decorated streets Monday afternoon will pass the greatest parade in Stockton's history, in which 5,000 members of drum and bugle corps, bands, chanters and other uniformed bodies, as well as many floats, will take part. Major General C. H. Lyman, commanding general of the Pacific Area, United States Marine Corps, will be grand marshal.

Sixty drum and bugle corps and 15 bands, with a personnel of 2500, will take part in the convention. The majority will seek California department titles in competition of $3000 prize money. The band contest will precede the opening ceremony. The drum and bugle corps contest will be held Monday.

The 40 and 8 will stage its illuminated parade Tuesday night, with the convention winding up with election of officers Wednesday.

Housing accommodations have been provided for twice the number of visitors expected, convention officials said.

Slayer Of Tots Goes To Trial

80 On Venire Summoned For Hearing In Murder Of Three
Little Girls On July 4

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Albert Dyer was guarded against violence today as he went to trial for the rapist-murder of three little Inglewood girls.

Twelve deputy sheriffs were stationed in Superior Judge Thomas White's courtroom. One bailiff is the usual courtroom guard.

Since the day he was arrested, and allegedly confessed, the former WPA school crossing guard has been shielded against a feared attempt at lynching. Police said he originally confessed only after they offered to put him on the Inglewood city hall steps to "explain" discrepancies in his story to angry crowd.

Eighty prospective jurors were summoned for Dyer's trial on a charge of murdering Madeline and Melba Everett and Jeanette Stephens on July 4. The girls' violated bodies, ropes drawn tightly around their necks, were found in a gully of the Baldwin Hills. Dyer confessed he strangled them and then ravished their bodies, police say. He later repudiated the confession.

Granddaughter Of Placerville Woman Claimed At Capital

Evelyn M. Davidson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Davidson of Sacramento, and grand-daughter of Mrs. Mary Davidson of Placerville, died Thursday evening at a Sacramento hospital.

A June graduate of the Sacramento high school, she had been ill less than a week. The funeral will be Saturday morning from the Klumpf chapel. Burial will be at Woodland.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by a sister, Betty Ruth.

STURGEON LANDED

TOLEDO (UP)—Largest catch by commercial fishermen so far this season has been a 106-pound sturgeon measuring 6 feet 5 inches in length. The fish yielded about 40 pounds of roe marketing at $2 a pound.

SON OF PLACERVILLE COUPLE, "DEAD" FOR HOURS, REVIVED

Awarded $250 Prize By Floyd Gibbons For Harrowing Story
Of "Return To Life" While Awaiting Embalming On Slab In Whichita Kansas, Morgue

His body paralyzed but his mind alert, Charles Boulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Boulton of Placerville, was pronounced dead by physicians and removed to a morgue for embalming, but he escaped death and lived to collect just the other day, a $250 cash award from Floyd Gibbons as the central figure of the most thrilling adventure of the month dramatized over the air.

It all happened thirty years ago when Boulton, who still lives in Wichita, Kansas, was a lineman for the power company there.

With a crew of co-workers, Boulton was repairing a line and was up a pole when someone, by accident, turned a 2,300-volt charge through the lines, which Boulton had supposed were "dead."

The charge "froze" him.

His buddies took him down from the pole and got him to a doctor who worked over him for a while and gave up hope.

The body was removed to a morgue and was identified by Mrs. Boulton, the wife, whose cries of anguish the husband heard at her recognition.

He was mentally alert but physically paralyzed.

He heard morgue attendants make plans for his embalming and was unable to make any sign that he was not dead.

Then, things took a turn. It began to register in his mind that he must make some sign or be embalmed alive.

"Dead" for two hours, Boulton was finally able to cry out, and attract the attention of the undertaker.

A doctor was summoned and Boulton was revived.

Now, just recently, he has had a trip to New York as the guest of Floyd Gibbons and his radio sponsors, and is back again at his work bench in the shoe repairing shop he operates in Wichita.

Tahoe Boatman "Wrecked" On Legal Reef

Navigation hazards at Lake Tahoe are pretty well charted but Tom Stephens, boatman, went aground on a "legal reef," recently when Game Warden Ed Hughes and Game Warden M. Joy caught him fishing in the Upper Truckee River below the Luther pass bridge.

The wardens flagged the boatman to a landing and after he had been made fast they inspected his "cargo" which, they report, included twenty-two of the most delectable appearing trout one can imagine.

The haul was so good the wardens thought it would be appreciated by Justice of the Peace C. R. Mayhew, at Al Tahoe, who showed his appreciation by confiscating the mess and assessing Mr. Stephens a fine of $25 for fishing in closed waters.

MEAT PRICES RISING THROUGHOUT NATION

Hogs At $13.75 Bring Highest
Price In 11 Years; Shortage
Of Feed In Drouth Blamed

CHICAGO (UP)—The corner butcher asked 42 cents for a pound of his choicest pork chops today and advised housewives not to look for any meat bargains for a few months at least.

Meat prices are rising 15 to 25 per cent, all over the nation, dealers said. In Chicago, a pound of good sirloin steak came to 60 cents. A year ago the same butchers were charging 30 cents for the same pork chops and 35 cents for the steaks.

Butchers today were charging two cents a pound more than last Saturday for cured ham, four cents for round steaks, two to seven cents for lamb chops.

The increases, dealers said, are due to the fact that farmers stricken by recent droughts have little corn to feed their hogs and few hogs to ship to market.

Hog prices touched $13.75 a hundred weight, up 10 cents over yesterday's price for a new 11-year high at the Chicago stockyards.

Today was the fifth straight day in which prices have risen to a new high in Chicago. The high price was paid for choice 210 pounds well finished weights and dates to October 27, 1936.

SINO-JAPANESE WAY MAY BE AVERTED; INFORMAL PEACE PLANS DISCUSSED

NANKING (UP)—Rumors that informal peace conversations have started in Shanghai between minor Chinese and Japanese officials were strengthened tonight by a report from Tokyo that "a practical and conciliatory compromise can be effected to end the Chinese-Japanese conflict."

Finance Minister H. H. Jung also was reported in Chinese press dispatches as favoring a peaceful solution.

Tokyo reports said that Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Japan's youthful premier, favored a compromise but one that would make clear Japan's dominant position in North China and would assure China's unquestioned co-operation in eliminating communism from Asia.

POCKETS JAMMED

YELLSTON, O. (UP)—Police who searched a prisoner found—four bottles of beer, two pints of whisky, two knives, a pair of brass "knocks," and knives, a pair of brass "knucks," and William Veerkamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Veerkamp, of Garden Valley, had his tonsils removed Friday at Placerville Sanatorium.

BABE BORN AS MOTHER DIES

Caesarian Operation After Death Saves Life Of Tot;
Eye-Dropper Feeds InfantBy ROBERT VERMILLION
United Press Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—A girl baby, smaller than a man's hat, struggled desperately in Philadelphia general hospital today to retain the gift of life conferred upon it by death.

The child, delivered surgically one minute after Mrs. Mary Boccawinski, 27, succumbed to tubercular meningitis, was too feeble to breathe without assistance.

For eight hours it lay in an oxygen tent fashioned from X-ray film. At 11:40 a. m. it was taken out and, for a time, breathed normally. Then the tiny lungs faltered and it was necessary to return the child to the tent.

While on its own, however, the infant took its first meal—one dram of a sterile sugar water administered by a nurse through an eyedropper.

The baby's temperature, 109.4 at birth, fell to 102.6 after feeding, and Dr. John Corbit, resident obstetrician who performed the post mortem caesarian operation before dawn, said its chances of living were becoming steadily greater.

The baby's birth climaxed a duel between two forces of nature—one creative, the other destructive—within the mother's body.

At 3:15 a. m. today, the destructive force won. The surgical instruments had been sterilized, and Dr. John Corbit, resident obstetrician, his assistant and nurses were waiting. Sixty seconds later, the life that had been condemned with Mrs. Boccawinski's life, was saved by science.

8,000,000 Idle Labor Claims

Employment Increases Shows
Weakening Sign Declares
Report By Federation

WASHINGTON (UP)—The American Federation of Labor reported today that the post-depression employment rise "is beginning to weaken" with "more than 8,000,000 still out of work."

The Federation reported that "in industry as a whole there were 139,000 more jobs in June than in any other month this year; but this June gain compares with gains of 300,000 to 400,000 in every previous month, showing that the employment rise is beginning to weaken."

"Our employment estimate, based on government figures, shows more than 8,000,000 still out of work. Last year, in the spring busy season, hours were lengthened and one hour was added to the work week. This year the drive for union organization influenced hours of work and there was no change in the work week, which averaged 40 and three-fourth hours in January and the same for May."

Trial Marriages Known To Solomon Islanders

SYDNEY, N. S. W. (UP)—Trial marriages and semi-detached married couples are neither new nor exceptional in Malaita, one of the Solomon Islands. Dr. Ian Hogbin told members of the Anthropological Society here.

"If a girl does not like her mother-in-law, for example, during the trial," he said, "she makes a few attempts to run away. The family politely stops her the first two or three times, but if she persists they just let her go. And that ends the romance. When a man and a woman marry, they live in separate establishments, meeting formally only at the evening meal."

Stamp Of King George V Is Canadian Best Seller

OTTAWA, Ont. (UP)—The Canadian post office department issued approximately 15,000,000,000 postage stamps in the 34 years from 1903 to 1935.

The estimate, first of its kind ever issued by the department, showed that the best selling stamps were the King George V series of 1912, of which 3,218,400,000 one-cent and 5,043,450,000 two-cent stamps were sold.

RICHEST—Mrs. James R. Cronwell, the former Doris Duke, often referred to as the richest girl in the world, as she arrived in New York from a leisurely trip abroad with her husband. After a stay at Newport, R. I., they expected to go to Honolulu.

MERCHANTS ASKED TO MEET MONDAY

Permanent Association Of Local Business Men Will Be Considered At Meeting

Members of the advisory committee of the temporarily-formed merchants' organization met Thursday night and drafted plans for the forming of a permanent organization among the retail merchants of every classification within the city of Placerville.

Members of this advisory committee are Harry Jaspas, Albert Simon, Cecil George, T. P. Raley and Mance H. Vaught. The two latter are chairman and secretary, respectively, of the temporary organization.

According to Mr. Raley, it was the unanimous opinion of members present at the committee meeting that a

EARTHQUAKE REPORTED FROM TAHOE, TEBLOR NOTED BY LOOKOUTS

EARTHQUAKE 10:00hours ... N ... N
There was an earthquake about 7:45 o'clock Thursday night.

Forest Ranger Raleigh Bryan, at Meyers, reported to Eldorado Forest headquarters that it was "quite severe" in the Lake Valley district, but no serious damage was done.

Iron Mountain, Plummer and Alder Ridge lookouts of the forest service reported the quake but no damage.

Center of the tremor was not learned.

Police Asked To Guard Group In Attack On Neighbor

TULSA (UP)—An unidentified woman called police headquarters and asked Capt. George Reif to "send some policemen out here right away."

"What for?" Reif inquired.
"Well," the woman said, "Mrs. So-and-So next door has been talking about me, and the neighbors and I are going over and break her windows out. We want the police there so if she should attempt to hurt us they can stop her."

Reif explained the police would be glad to stop her instead. He demanded her address.

Lester and Kelly Longhurst and their sister, Mrs. William Naurkus, have returned from Salt Lake City, where there were called recently by the death of their father, Charles Longhurst. They were accompanied home by their mother, Mrs. Vilate Longhurst, who will make an extended visit with her sons and daughters in California.

AUTO PRICES TO TAKE JUMP

General Motors Schedules
Boost As New Labor Strife
Closes Plymouth Factory

DETROIT (UP)—The six lines of automobiles manufactured by General Motors Corporation have announced price increases to their dealers, it was revealed today.

Close upon increases of $100 on Cadillac and $60 on La Salle, the corporation marked up the price tags on its other cars—Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac and Chevrolet.

The Buick increase, effective Monday, will be three to four per cent above present prices, or roughly, $45 to $60. The Olds price raise, effective on the same day, will be $45 above the present base delivered price of $765.

Dates for the advancement of Chevrolet and Pontiac prices has not been determined, nor has the amount, officials of those subsidiaries said.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board of General Motors, predicted recently that higher prices appeared necessary due to increasing costs of materials and labor.

Attempts to settle a new labor controversy in the automobile industry were lost today in a muddle of charges and countercharges by the Chrysler Corporation and the United Automobile Workers' Union.

More than 21,000 workers were idle as the opposing factions argued whether the company or the union had broken the agreement that ended a general Chrysler strike last winter.

Chrysler had closed its Plymouth factory, employing approximately 11,000 workers, following a fight between U. A. W. members and proponents of the independent association of Chrysler employees. The shutdown forced the Briggs Manufacturing Company, which makes bodies for Chrysler, to lay off its 10,000 workers.

Three Killed In Rail Wreck

Engine, Flat Car Dive Through
Flaming Trestle Early Today
In Redwood Area

EUREKA (UP)—Three men were killed early today when the engine and a flat car of a Northwestern Pacific freight train plunged through a flaming trestle, 36 miles south of here.

The dead, all of Eureka, were: Edward H. Weatherby, 55, engineer; Carlton G. Bartlett, about 40, fireman; C. Still, Jr., about 25, head brakeman.

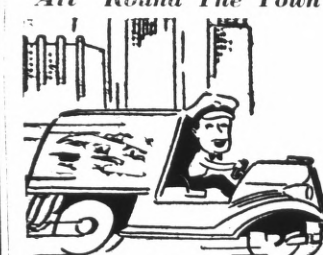

The freight train, enroute from Eureka to San Francisco, struck the trestle as it rounded a curve, two miles north of Shively, California, at 3:40 a. m. The trestle was afire at the south end from an undetermined cause.

The locomotive and a car, loaded with lumber, crashed through the trestle into a ravine. Weatherby and Bartlett apparently died instantly while Still died a few hours later in the Scotia hospital.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Hay Fever May Lead to Asthma or Sinusitis; Injections of Pollen Extracts a Cure

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

IT'S almost time now for the annual epidemic of coughing, sneezing, weeping, and general discomfort due to hay fever. It will reach us from all sides. Already those who are irritated by June grass, timothy, red top, and orchard grass are fearing the ragweed pollen in mid August.

DR. CHRISMAN

Months ago I advised those who were suffering from hay fever to begin taking injections of pollen extracts in an effort to prevent the condition. We are all prone to put off doing things till it is too late; particularly those things which require time and some discomfort; even though we know it will prevent far greater discomfort and loss of time later.

The ideal time for beginning prophylactic treatment has passed, but it is not yet too late. It means we must use more frequent injections and larger dosage. The results may not be so good as if the treatment had been begun earlier. Yet it is better late than never.

Hay Fever No Joke

Hay fever sufferers should get busy or prepare to go away during August and September if possible, or as a last resort resign themselves to six or eight weeks of great discomfort.

Hay fever is not a mild disease and is not to be laughed at. The condition is not fatal, but it is most uncomfortable, and is a decided drain on the general health. Moreover, it leads to many other permanent conditions which are quite serious. Bronchial asthma often follows the congestion which begins the sneezing and coughing. This affords a steady drain on the general health and greatly decreases the patient's efficiency. It prolongs the discomforts of hay fever throughout the entire year instead of for a few weeks.

The irritation of the nose, throat, and bronchial tubes by hay fever often results in sinusitis, chronic nasal catarrh, and chronic bronchitis. Operations on the nose and throat, such as removing tonsils, adenoids, and polyps, are helpful, but do not prevent hay fever. They may, however, lessen its severity.

If we are so situated that we can spend a large part of our days and nights in air conditioned houses or offices, having to breathe only air from which pollen and dust have been extracted, we can escape much discomfort. Even air conditioned bedrooms may give relief and insure a good night's sleep.

Of course, a trip to Europe or the far north or the spending of August and September on board an ocean vessel may prevent the attack. But most of us do not have that prospect.

Hard to Escape Pollen

It is much more difficult to escape the pollens of hay fever in these late years. The automobile has carried the seeds of weeds to all corners of the country, and the places where ragweed does not grow are very few.

The only successful treatment for hay fever is the prophylactic use of pollen extracts. The kinds of pollen to use are determined by observation of the weeds, trees or grasses growing in the district at the time of the attack and by tests for skin reactions.

After an attack has started, the injection of pollen extracts may be moderately helpful. Many medicines have been recommended, but are not as successful as we wish. Ephedrin, locally and internally, gives temporary relief. There are a number of preparations to be used locally which relieve the congested nasal membranes for a time. Gluco-fedrin, applied to the nose with a medicine dropper, is not irritating and can be used frequently. A drop of "estirin" in each eye in the morning stops the burning and weeping of the eyes. It can be used several times a day. The iodides in one large dose or frequent small doses afford comfort to many individuals.

New Gadgets Help Restore Coiffure After Swimming

By JACQUELINE HUNT

THE call of the salty waves or swimming pools and lakes again makes us aware of another of the season's trying problems—what to do with hair which may have looked as beautifully coiffed as the Duchess of Windsor's before a swim, but inevitably emerges damp and straggly.

This summer the bathing girl is lucky, all she needs to do is tuck a tiny but efficient hair brush, an automatic curler with a supply of bobby pins and a new kind of bathing cap in her beach coat pocket or into her kit with her sunburn preventative. She can dive, swim or frolic in the waves as long as she pleases without a single worry. Then, when she is ready she can come out, open up her kit and with the aid of her brush and a pocket mirror roll up her curls into her usual becoming coiffure and let them dry. Since the pins that hold her curls in place do not show, she can have a sun bath, parade the beach or sip a lemonade while her hair dries. By the time she is dressed for the evening and her make-up applied, her hair is also in perfect condition. She just takes out the pins, brushes her hair for a few minutes with the small, stiff bristled brush to invigorate the scalp and restore the luster and highlights to her hair. Then she takes each curl, brushes it out and over her finger to make it into a smooth, snug roll and presto! she is as sleekly groomed and charming as if she had just stepped out of her favorite hairdresser's.

Hair can be a problem when you indulge in other outdoor sports, too, like tennis, golf or horseback riding. For this purpose you can arrange your coiffure and then keep it reasonably well in place with a wrap-around net cap. You can wear it like a halo or turban with the two ends crossed in front and tied in a bow in the back or tucked into the draped folds. Let your curls come out from under the edge of it to add beauty and softness to your face.

You might like to hear about the new bathing caps, too. One kind is made of thick, velvety rubber and has a thin inner band that keeps out most of the water. Others are created primarily for beauty—a helmet-like style with an arched line for the girl with a round face; one that is dipped over the forehead for the long, slender face; and one with a side dip that adds interest to the face that is a pure oval in shape.

RIVER PEARL CULTURE TRIED IN EXPERIMENT BY SOVIET EXPERTS

MURMANSK, U. S. S. R. (U)—An experimental farm for raising river pearls is being organized on the Kola Peninsula to study the methods of artificial pearl formation.

Last summer an expedition found about 3,000,000 pearl-oysters in the rivers of the Kola Peninsula.

As is known, an irritation by an alien body causes the mollusk to emit mother-of-pearl, which coats this alien body, forming a pearl capsule around it. With this in mind, the expedition conducted interesting experiments. Several hundred pearl-oysters were caught and their shells opened. A small shot was introduced into the body of each mollusk which was then thrown into the river.

"FLYING BATH TUB" BUILT FOR $100, PILOTED BY 19-YEAR-OLD LAD

CLEVELAND (U)—Unemployed Nick Cheput, 19-year-old "backyard Lindbergh," flies his home-made airplane without ever having had formal flying instruction.

Cheput built the plane, which looks like a winged bathtub, from 65-cent plans. He used a four-cylinder motor-cycle engine, sheet aluminum, steel tubing, fabric from a plane that had crashed—and the result produced was the stubby plane, "Sir Nick."

Cheput built "Sir Nick" in three months for a cost of about $100. It is easy to fly and tail spin-proof, he said.

"BONE SURGERY" FAILS TO SAVE LIMPING GRASSHOPPER IN TEXAS HOSPITAL

FORT WORTH, Tex. (P)—Nurses at St. Joseph's hospital here had no success in their first attempt to "save" a grasshopper with a broken leg that scrambled through a window at the hospital. The grasshopper, Tommy, was one of the horde that have infested Tarrant County farms recently. Many of his brothers have died from poison spread in farmers' fields or beneath the tires of automobiles as they sought to cross the highways.

Sympathetic nurses, however, were attracted by Tommy's broken leg and they undertook to save its life surgically. Splints were prepared from toothpicks. Then the 'hopper was laid upon a table and administered a small dose of ether. Tommy wriggled twice—then went to sleep, but never woke up.

The Missouri Flat road is receiving a coat of oil this week.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

NEWPORT, R. I. (P)—In which a man who is suffering from acute seasickness makes public a few private opinions on the America's cup series which, thank lawdy, ended yesterday.

There never will be another challenge for the homeliest of all cups until the regulations of the race are changed and smaller boats substituted for the class J type. I believe this for two reasons, the first being that the monster articles like Ranger cost too much money. Sopwith's don't grow on trees. Most millionaires are likely to think twice before opening their change purses and pouring a million dollars into a challenge.

In the second place, there is the chance that Mike Vanderbilt's Ranger has killed class J. She is so swift, so perfect in any and all types of weather, that she may chase all her rivals off the sea, discourage other yachtsmen from trying to improve on her, or even match her.

I dislike to bring the sordid game of box fighting into a discussion of yachting but there is a parallel between Ranger and a champion fighter who is too good for his class. When a champion gets too deadly his class withers away from lack of competition.

Yachtsmen have a higher scorn for persons who don't like or understand their game than any other group of sportsmen. And they can outpose even the A. A. U. officials at track meets. This, of course, places them head, shoulders, neck and Adams apple above any other posers in the world.

The goal of all marine men is to do everything the hardest way. Otherwise, why would they build boats without motors and then insist on sailing them dad against the wind? Why would they use flags to convey messages, and bells to announce the time. Speaking of bells, I've heard so many in the past week that two Swiss gentlemen have been pestering me all day to rent them by head for a concert tour. Sailors ring bells at dinner, supper, breakfast, when a man goes overboard, when its full speed ahead, when its full speed to one side, when its foggy, when its clear, when its anything.

If Sherman Hoyt were to take the helm of Endeavour II and go out against Ranger tomorrow he'd be no longer a shot than 6 to 5.

The only way to ever prove just how superior Ranger is to Endeavour II, would be for Vanderbilt and Ranger to swap boats and stage a match race. If such a race were held it would draw the biggest spectators fleet in the history of the cup, and Vanderbilt, on Endeavour II, would be the betting favorite.

There is nothing that will cure sea sickness but land and time. All those who enjoyed the races (and there are thousands of them, believe it or not), owe the United States Coast Guard 21 gun salute for a mean task graciously and beautifully done. The rumble of a subway is a sweeter sound than the shrill cry of seagulls, the whine of wind through rigging.

The apricot harvest this season in the Diablo Valley, Contra Costa County, totaled approximately 20,000 tons; close to 7000 persons were employed.

DISASTER — With the night sky as a background, the Chesapeake Bay liner, City of Baltimore, burns to the waterline about 14 miles out from Baltimore, as a rescue ship stands by. Fire believed to have started from an explosion, caused death of at least six persons and injured scores.

TRAFFIC DEATHS AT NIGHT SHOW GAIN WITH 28 PER CENT DUE TO DRUNKENNESS

SACRAMENTO — Fatalities, caused by collisions on the highway at night, have skyrocketed during the past few years, while deaths from wrecks happening in daylight show a moderate trend downward, an analysis by Ray Ingels, director of motor vehicles, shows.

In 1930, the director said 1,075 fatal accidents occurred in daylight hours, against 1,032 at night. In 1936 there were 1,107 deaths during the day as compared with 1,713 in darkness.

"The increase in night fatalities," Ingels said, "can be explained chiefly by two factors—drunkenness and excess speed. Approximately twenty-eight per cent of night deaths involve drunkenness. Most of these accidents occur from midnight on into the early morning hours and frequently involve pleasure-seekers returning home from parties.

"There seems to be a prevailing notion among drivers that when the traf-

Women Drivers Involved In Fewer Fatal Accidents

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (P)—Men drivers are more likely to be involved in accidents in which someone is killed than a woman driver, according to a check by police here.

In Kansas City last year women were responsible for six per cent of the fatal accidents, whereas at any hour of the day an average of 11 per cent of the cars are driven by women.

Therefore, men, who drive 89 per cent of the cars are responsible for 94 per cent of the fatal accidents.

Merchants To Meet Monday

permanent organization of the merchants of Placerville be formed, and a recommendation was drawn to that effect. An organization meeting will be held in the supervisors' rooms at the courthouse on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, sharp.

The committee emphasizes the fact that it is extremely important that every retail merchant in the city make every effort possible to attend the organization meeting Monday night. They believe that such an association among the merchants has been needed for sometime and this particular time is needed more than ever to cope with various problems, that will inevitably come. They also stress immediate action and urged that a large representation be in attendance, next Monday night at the county courthouse.

EUROPE'S STARS TO TWINKLE IN HOLLYWOOD NEXT SEASON

NEW YORK (UP)—Hollywood's installation during 1938 will be heavily studded with foreign stars, judging from the influx here of players from abroad, and from observations made by authorities in the American film industry.

All are arriving with long-term contracts and some are assured prominent parts in their first productions. This latter phase is unusual since the average newcomer to the American screen, as recently as a year ago, was required to go through a "break-in" period, during which he was given comparatively minor roles until he proved his worth with American audiences.

Some of these foreign players are frank and outspoken in their views of motion picture work upon reaching New York, the first leg of their trip to the West Coast.

Georges Rigaud, French star and most recent arrival, said almost bluntly when asked about Hollywood, "I have never been there. How should I know? And I don't want to have an opinion before I see the place myself. I have listened to too many opinions about it already. Some have told me: 'You will like it very much,' just as others have said, 'You will hate it.' So I go out there with an open mind."

Rigaud, whose first Hollywood effort will be the role opposite Marlene Dietrich in her next Paramount feature, "Midnight," was an exporter and a bond salesman in Paris before a French producer, meeting him at a party, urged him to take a screen test.

Pigmy Hippopotamus Pet For Student In Liberia

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP)—A pigmy hippopotamus was the African companion of C. A. Wismer, graduate student in plant, pathology at Minnesota University, who has returned from Liberia.

Wismer met the tiny hippo about the size of a dog, while in the employ of the Firestone research department in the West African republic.

"Pigmy hippos, which are found only in their native state of Liberia, make ideal pets," Wismer declared. "However, I must admit they are not the most handsome animals I have seen."

The Santa Rosa Republican records a recent visit to that city by Mrs. Mabel Thornton and son of Placerville, who called on the Roat Woods.

The Grass Valley Union informs us that Mrs. Addie Williams of Placerville, recently was called to that city by the death of her brother, Sherman Hecker.

NEW YORK JURIST MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED SEVEN YEARS AGO TONIGHT

NEW YORK (UP)—Seven years ago today, at 9:30 p. m., Supreme Court Justice Joseph Force Crater, 41 years old, in sound health and apparently at the peak of his career, said goodbye to friends in front of a Manhattan restaurant, stepped into a tan-colored taxicab and rode into oblivion.

For all anyone knows, the mystery which enveloped Crater also swallowed up the taxicab and the driver. Neither has ever come to light.

When Justice Crater rode off to whatever destiny was his, he left behind an ever-broadening wake of speculation, gossip and hints of political scandal, but not a single clew of his fate.

His wife, Mrs. Stella M. Crater, believes that he is dead—that he was murdered. She believes that some sinister force, some way connected with politics, swallowed up her husband and left no trace of him upon earth.

Now that the seven-year statutory period has elapsed, she wants him declared legally dead. She needs his insurance, some $20,000.

For nearly a month after Crater disappeared his friends and political associates said nothing. They believed he would reappear. They did not wish to jeopardize with what might prove to be unpleasant publicity his chances of winning the Democratic nomination for election to the full 14-year term on the Supreme Court bench.

But after this month of silent waiting, the search started. Police, a private detective, friends of the jurist, Mrs. Crater herself and newspapers launched investigations which eventually covered the United States and extended into Canada, Mexico, Europe, Africa and Australia.

Police offered a $5,000 reward. Before it was withdrawn a stack of letters two feet high and containing purported "leads" to Crater's whereabouts had accumulated at police headquarters. The jurist was "found" repeatedly.

Unidentified bodies of suicides and murder victims throughout the nation were checked against Crater's description. Only one bore any strong resemblance to the missing jurist. A Pinkerton detective shortly after the disappearance found a dead man on the grounds of the Agua Caliente Jockey Club in Lower California. But like others before and since this "lead" also failed.

Only three theories as to what happened to Crater appear to be at all plausible:

1. He committed suicide.
2. He disappeared of his own volition and still lives.
3. He was murdered.

The Sonoma Index Tribune reports that Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Anderson of Placerville, visited in that city recently at the J. Dahlquist home, following a visit in Yosemite Valley.

His headquarters were at the American Embassy.

Abandoned Trolley Car Home For Disabled Seaman

SALISBURY, Mass. (UP)—Frank Curtis, 57-year-old disabled seaman, has an abandoned trolley car for his home.

The car rests in a pine grove on land owned by a sister. He was forced to use it three years ago when his home was leveled by fire. He liked it so well he remodeled the interior and it is now complete with kitchen, bedroom, electric lights and oil stove. A nearby well provides his water. Curtis' bed is made by springs stretched between plush seats on one side of the car and covered with a mattress.

Ten Saved From Suicide, By Volunteer Sentry

AKRON, O. (UP)—In two years as a gasoline station attendant, Walter Thompson has dissuaded 10 persons from suicide.

Thompson's station is at the end of a bridge chosen often by persons as a place to end their lives. When he sees someone ready to jump, he rushes out persuades him there is something to live for.

"There's something in the way despondent people look," Thompson said. "You see it in their walk, too. They look 'washed up' with living."

"Why do I follow them? I guess because it gives me a sick feeling to see them standing up there on the bridge ready to jump."

Gerald Craig, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $10 Friday before Police Judge Eugene Creed.

CONNECTICUT SCARECROWS ARE TOGGED OUT IN "TAILS" FOR CURRENT YEAR

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—There are a lot of "high-hat" individuals ruling the Connecticut countryside these days.

Although in some instances they are attired in "swallow-tails" of bygone days, they possess a dignity seldom noticed among the penniless. They evade the old-age assistance tax, wave at single and married women alike as the latter drive by them, and laugh at the fact their span of life is seldom more than a year. They are the scarecrows.

Connecticut has never had so many of these block-headed citizens within its borders as it has had this year. A survey of the countryside has shown the silkhatted scarecrows to greatly outnumber the "tramps." Farmers this year have taken pains to make sure their freshly painted homes and outbuildings are not detracted from by ragged sentinels against crows.

Average Iowan Spends $58 In Year For Liquor

DES MOINES, Ia. (UP)—The 148,000 Iowans holding liquor permits spent an average of $58 for intoxicating beverages during the fiscal year ended June 30, the state commission has reported.

The state-owned stores did a business of $8,864,000 during the year as compared with $6,559,437 in the year ended June 30, 1936.

In 1936, 133,007 permit holders spent an average of only $49.30.

Liquor sales have increased considerably since the state stores were established in 1934. This year's sales were 63 per cent greater than during the 1934-1935 year, and 32 per cent greater than in 1935-1936.

George Pontious was in town from Coloma on Friday.

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME

...and all year round, 4 miles out of 5 are Stop and Go

SHIFTING through gears after only one stop can waste enough gasoline to take you a third of a mile!

To cut down the high cost of stop and go, Shell engineers have developed a way to "balance" gasoline. This balancing process, by rearranging its chemical structure, makes Super-Shell "digestible" for your motor, just as cooking makes food digestible for you.

Your motor, at all times, gets the full benefit of Super-Shell's high energy content, and you get the savings!

For economy's sake try this "motor-digestible" gasoline. There is a Shell dealer in your neighborhood.
